Stratego: The game board is your battlefield. You have an army of men and six bombs at your disposal. Your mission: Capture your opponent's flag and protect your own.

You and your opponent secretly place your men, bombs and flag on the game board. Once the armies are in place, advance your men. When you're one space away from an enemy, attack. You and your opponent declare ranks. The lower-ranking man is captured – and taken out of play.

Move with caution and courage. The next piece you attack could be a bomb that will “blast” your man off the board!

The first to capture the enemy's flag is the winner!
