

Lexogon One Game Rules

The Challenge: Get a two-letter clue, then search your memory for a word of four or more letters that uses the clue letters in order, but arranged in the special way your color category requires (maybe the first two letters together, maybe the first letter first and the last letter last, or another of the five categories).

First, roll the die and move to your square. Get a clue that matches the square's color. Then, find a word that fits the color's category rule in 75 seconds. Be the first to find words for all five categories and you've won.

You move around the board finding words. But there's also risk, luck and strategy involved – Condition Cards can make you lose a turn or credit, you can get sent back to start or you can “zap” or be “zapped” by another player – it all depends on your skill, luck and way with words.
