Tactile Monopoly: Here, then, is that time-honored real estate game, beautifully adapted so that blind or low vision players can join in, too. Every aspect of Monopoly (from the game board to the dice to the cards and money) is jumbo-sized with large print and Braille. The twenty-inch square playing board has a special overlay molded onto it, meaning that each property or space is marked with large type and Braille. The title deeds, Community Chest, and Chance cards are also big enough to accommodate reproducing all information in its entirety in Braille and large print. To round off this impressive package, we've included a pair of tactile dice with bold, black dots, along with an instruction booklet in ink-print.
