Discussion ensued about the 2026 budget. Director Dougherty informed the board that the Library System was notified by Erie County, Division of Budget & Management about submitting a “status quo” budget without discretionary spending.

With the uncertainty of Federal funding, and its potential effect on State and county funding, the Erie County Budget Director has asked all County departments and agencies to prepare a “What If” plan for a 10% reduction in County Funding.

Unfortunately, the worst case 10% reduction scenario would result in reductions in various parts of the Library System Budget. Including but not limited to, reduction in open hours, staffing, programming, and library materials. Director Dougherty will be working on budget sheets as they are sent by the System.

G). Committee Reports

- Town of Amherst Library Liaison – Liaison not in attendance

Director Kristi Dougherty will research insurance for the garden statues at Williamsville & Clearfield Libraries.

Audubon:

Adjacent playground opened and door count numbers averaged an increase of several hundred more people per day. Bathroom usage and garbage have also increased, which have led to an updated floor scrubber purchase. Leaking hot water tank and broken automatic opener of front door repaired by town.

- Professional Development

May 2025 – Librarian Joan Stoltman attended and presented about Baby Raves at the Southern Tier Library System Spring CE Conference. Librarians had heard about Joan’s NYLA YSS Conference presentation and wanted to learn more to share with their colleagues.

Baby Raves are THE premier library programming event sweeping across New York State from Buffalo to Long Island for toddlers and babies under age 2. Come learn about this viral dance and music experience that promotes early childhood development through movement & multi-sensory stimuli. See how you can engage the new generation of caretakers in your community, a generation hungry for diverse, experiential programming. With a small investment in supplies, you can count on baby raves as a proven way to educate a wider audience to the “public-library-as-community-center” revolution!

June 10, 2025 – Librarian Trainee Katherine Pizzuto completed the New York Library Association (NYLA) Developing Leaders Program by presenting a Capstone Presentation in Albany, New York about Combatting Book Challenges.

K). Correspondence/Other Items As Needed

6/18/25 - Email feedback from Tabitha K. - My staff and our residents are also very lucky to have the staff at Clearfield Library. I just want to say Mary Lou and her staff go over and beyond to help. We started a book club I would say around a year ago and finding large print books with the quantity we need is challenging. My last trip I gave Mary Lou 7 different books my residents picked for July's book club, and all of them had no large print books or very few. Mary Lou and her staff worked together on a project. Which was a list of books they recommended for book club. On this list it also listed how many large print books there were for that book and how many pages the book had. My residents are grateful for the choices we have for the next coming months!

Next meeting to be held:

Thursday, September 11, 2025 at 5:30pm at the Audubon Library, Community Room 1

L). Adjournment

Motion to approve by David Saia, seconded by Marilyn Feuerstein.
