Therapy, Service and Support Dogs: The Range of Man's Best Friend

Many wonder what's the difference between therapy, support and service dogs; some think they're all the same. This class discusses the difference between the three, what training and requirements are needed, and the benefit of animal companionship. Disclaimer: the presentation may contain actual dogs.

Seventeen Deadly Days: How Gerald Ford Cheated Death Twice

California, 1975: 17 days apart, two women, each with a gun. Both tried to assassinate President Gerald Ford. One was a disgruntled housewife, the other a follower of Charles Manson. This is the fascinating story of Ford's brief presidency, the fallout from the assassination attempts, and how he got lucky – twice.
