EPIC CHRIS PRATT MOVIE!

BY CARMEN

The Tomorrow War is a movie about a war in the future. The things they are fighting are alien creatures. The main character, Dan Forester, is played by Chris Pratt. He has a wife and one daughter. One day he gets picked to go into the war and there he meets his daughter but all grown up.

Here are some reasons why I like it:

1. The plot of the movie is so awesome and good.
2. Chris Pratt.
3. There are weapons.
4. It's a sci-fi movie.

KLN ZINE: FALL 2024

NOT N...ICE

BY BELLA

Don't get me wrong, I love movies. Especially disaster films. But Apocalypse of Ice is where I freeze the line (bad dad joke secured). It's a terrible film.

Apocalypse of Ice is about... well... an ice apocalypse. According to some sci-fi, two waves of ice are spreading across the globe. The 1st one is dangerous (as seen with one of the characters freezing to d3ath), but the 2nd is wiping out all of humanity.

Here are things I don't like about the movie:

- 1, They're on a mountain after the first wave, and.... there's no snow. None.
- 2, Half of the main cast of characters have a major degree (one is in the Navy, another is in medical, two are scientists).
- 3, The CGI is so bad it hurts.
- 4, It's always the guys getting hurt, but the only one who d!es is a female.
- 5, They drove on the frozen ocean instead of the beach. Why.
- 6, How is there a snow wall taller than a tree, but they're driving on perfectly flat terrain. The logic isn't matching up.

I don't recommend watching this, it's not a great film at all.

The Girl Who Fell Beneath the Sea

by Axie Oh

The Girl Who Fell Beneath the Sea is based on the myth "The Tale of Shim Cheong" where Shim sacrifices herself to the Sea God to restore her father's sight in return. In the modern book, the main character is named Ming. In the story, it is told that storms have raged over Ming's homeland for almost 100 years now. This has been believed to be caused by the rage of the Sea God. So every year, one girl gets thrown into the ocean as "the Sea God's bride" to try to please the Sea God. When Shim Cheong was supposed to be sacrificed, Ming offers herself as the Sea God's bride. Ming's brother Joon is in love with Shim, and was heartbroken to know she had to leave him. Ming not only sacrifices herself because of Joon's love for Shin, but because there are three rules to sacrificing the Sea God's bride. 1. No warriors, 2. no weapons, 3. no women (besides the bride). Joon broke rule #1 by boarding the boat with Shim Cheong. Ming did not want her brother to be killed for this offense. This shows how much Ming loves her brother and cares for him. I'm not going to spoil the entire book because I want people to read it themselves. I really loved this book and I hope you do too. :)

THE ANCIENT GAME OF ANIMAL CROSSING

BY CARMEN

Animal Crossing: New Horizons

Reasons not to play it:

1. Need billions of bells to buy stuff to expand your house- it's expensive.
2. Gets boring after one day.

Reasons to play it:

1. Get the rarest village.
2. Become very rich.
3. Flex on your friends.
4. Buy everything.

BTW

Why you should buy the Nintendo Switch vs. the PS4/PS5 and Xbox

So the Switch is better because...

1. You can bring it anywhere.
2. More people like it.
3. You can play Minecraft Unrelatable.
4. It gives you less lag.

So that's why I think you should buy one.

I have been playing it for 2 years.

TOO GOOD TO MYTH

BY BELLA

Amazing Immortals is a book about different mythologies, and the gods and goddesses associated with them

It talks about different mythologies' creation, leaders, gods of life and death, tricksters, animals, gods of love, and much more. From Norse, to Chinese, to Hindu, this book goes over many different mythologies.

My personal favorite part is that each different mythology looks like it was each drawn by a different person (I don't know if that's actually the case, but that's just what it looks like). You should definitely read this book!

IT'S FALL Y'ALL! COLOR ME!

BY BELLA

PLEASE KEEP YOUR CATS QUIET

BY BELLA

So, for those who don't know what it is, A Quiet Place trilogy is about an invasion/apocalypse of a monster species, who will eliminate any and all sound.

A Quiet Place Day One starts off at a hospice outside of New York City, who takes care of and boards them. The main protagonist, Sam, is living there, with her cat, as an "end-of-days-care" due to her medical condition. So, she's not happy. Even more so when she got tricked into watching a marionette show (she thinks it's quite boring), but looks forward to getting pizza after. But when her hospice nurse tells her they have to go back, she just wants pizza from in the city (because she really doesn't have anything to live for, so she has to look forward to the little things). Everyone gets on the bus, but then all go to the back to look at something. Sam gets up to look, but then a huge explosion happens, leaving her and the hospice nurse. She stumbles out of the bus, white ash on her face, and hides behind a vehicle as the creatures cause havoc in NYC. There's ash, smoke, and debris in the air as she tries to make sense of it all. She then goes into the marionette theater.

She passes out, and wakes up to see an unfamiliar face holding his hand over her mouth. She looks around, and does find a familiar face: her nurse. She embraces him with a hug, and after she goes outside to see the bridges being blown up. Apparently, there are emergency evacuation boats somewhere nearby. Later, a noise goes off, and her nurse turns it off. Not without a consequence of course.

Now with the only person left who cared for her, she sets out with her cat to the emergency boats. Flying vehicles distracted the monsters away from the boats, so people could get to them. But, the people are making so much noise, and she has a bad feeling. She turns around, but with a whole crowd walking the opposite direction, it's quite difficult. But before she could get out, the creatures ambushed the citizens. She dives under a car, but some guy grabs her leg and yells at her. He gets eaten (well-deserved in my opinion). Then, the car tires in the back pop, pinning her legs. The whole car then starts collapsing, but she narrowly escapes, and hides in an alley. Knowing their owner is gravely hurt, the cat goes to get her help.

The cat finds a guy named Eric, and leads him back to Sam. She could go to the emergency boats, but she doesn't: she wants her pizza. So the both of them go to the pizza place, and there's no pizza. But her Eric goes out, finds a pizza box, writes the pizza place's name on top, and brings it to Sam. They enjoyed pizza together, and put on a silent "show" together (my favorite part of the film). After having a good time, Sam thinks of a diversion to help Eric get on rescue boat. They get to the water, and she makes noise to distract the creatures while Eric and her cat swim to the boat. He barely makes it, and while he's on the boat, he reads a note from Sam to him that was attached to the cat (it was super emotional). In the final scene, she's seen listening to music on her earplug headphones. Then, in her final moment, unplugs the earphones, and makes noise. As a monster runs at her, the screen goes dark.

I TUBE, YOUTUBE

BY BELLA

I recently found this YouTube channel, and It's really quite wholesome.

Carlo and Sarah YouTube's channel is about them as a couple- but Carlo has the personality of the most innocent kitten.

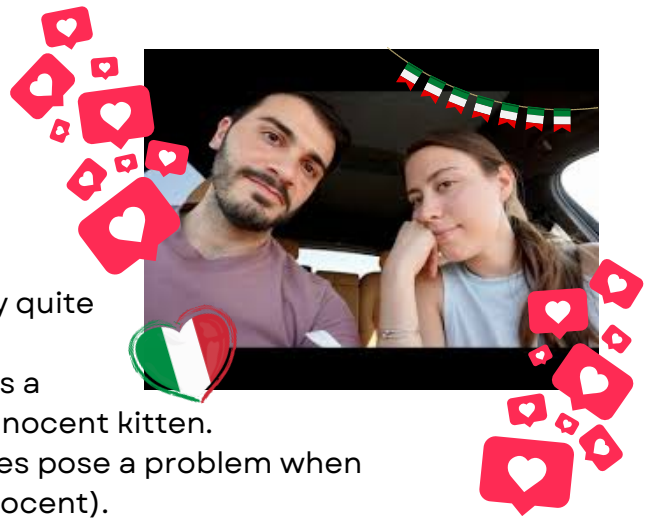

He has a thick Italian accent, and that can sometimes pose a problem when speaking English (but its ok because he's just so innocent).

He loves Sarah so much, and I'm saying that because it really shows. He loves her, and making her happy. Like, he literally calls her "my love" and "my angel". But when it comes to cooking, he loves his mom's more. Which since authentic Italian food is honestly better than American, I agree with him.

Some of the shorts is mainly her trying to ruffle Carlo's feathers, which I don't find very nice. Like Sarah telling him that Italian architecture reminds her of Olive Garden, or not adding cheese to his pasta, or doing something that he doesn't like.

And, when he's upset/agitated, he speaks in Italian (it's his native language).

I definitely recommend you to check out their YouTube channel @CarloandSarah

255 PAGES OF PAINFUL EMOTIONS

BY BELLA

Almost Home is about a girl named Sugar and her struggle to survive with her mom Reba and her dog Shush.

Her dad's a gambler, and due to debt and expenses, her and her mom have to leave their home and move to a family member's house the next town over. So Sugar Mae Cole has to say goodbye to the people and place she knows. But shortly after being there, she has to move to a homeless shelter. Then they move to Chicago, her mom doesn't get the job she was supposed to, her mom gets depression and goes into a hospital, Sugar moves in with a couple, her dad shows up out of the blue, ditches them again, and happy ending for all.

Now, I don't like this book because the age range is for 9-12, but it talks about some touchy topics like depression, parent problems, homelessness, and more. So, I definitely do not recommend this book for anyone under 12. And it's just such a sad depressing book. Plus, there's no way a homeless shelter would let Sugar have Shush.

Oh, and her mom is a jerk to the couple that watched Sugar while SHE was in the hospital recovering.

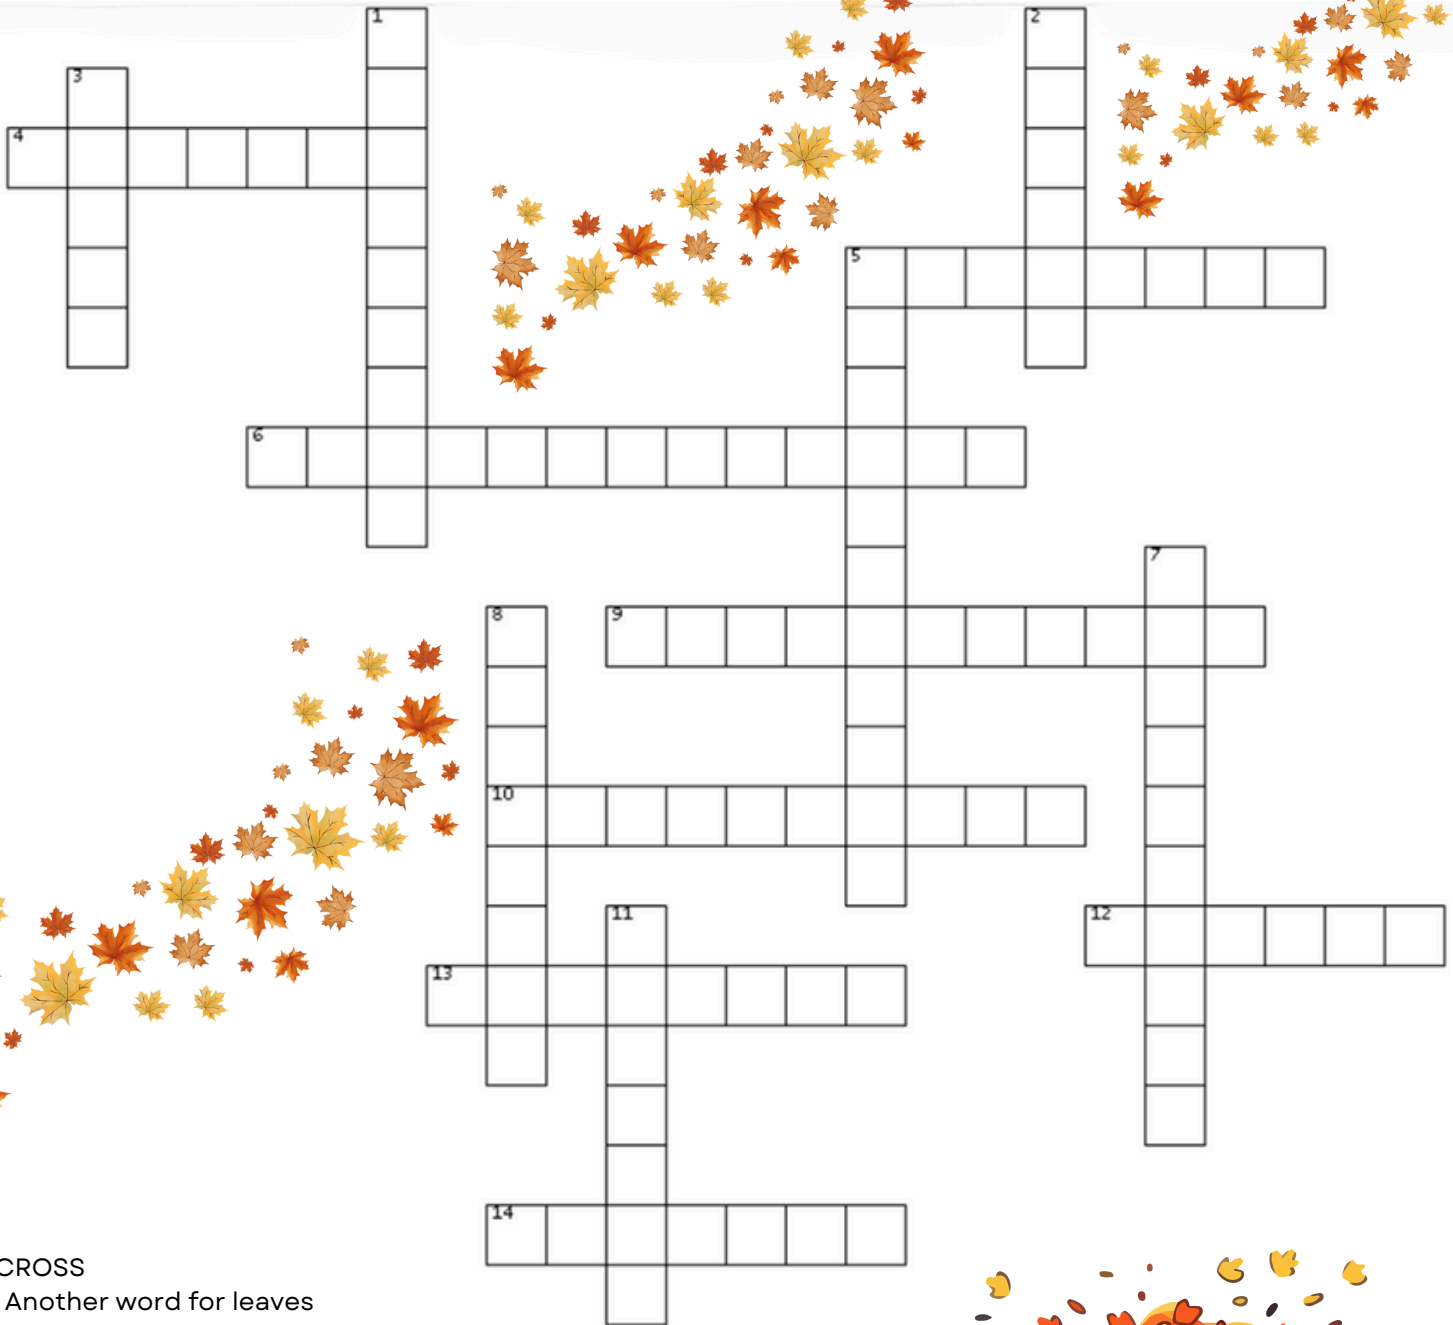

This book just isn't very good, and I do not recommend reading it

THIS IS FUNNY

BY BELLA

Warning: This movie is mildly inappropriate, I recommend this movie for ages 16+

Daddy's Home is a crude-humored comedy with Will Ferrell and Mark Wahlberg. And unlike the other movie with the two of them, this one is actually really good. Brad has the life- he's the stepfather of two kids, has a beautiful wife, and a pretty stable job of working at a smooth jazz radio station. But then one night, the original dad Dusty calls. And chaos ensues. He goes to pick him up at the airport, and that went wrong. Brad tries to set boundaries, and build a "loving emotional fence" between him and Dusty. They fight for the kids' love, and Brad fights for his respect in the house. Dusty brings in a stray dog, that most likely has worms, feces, is blind, and probably has rabies. Oh, and Dusty named him Tumor. Brad brings Dusty with him to work, and becomes the voice of the music station. Dusty also hurts Brad on a person level, saying how his wife wants another baby, but after an... accident... he can't have kids. This movie is definitely one of my favorites; Its really funny, and a great movie for the right audience.

SOMETHING RANDOM: SPONBOB

BY NEIL & EMMA & SPONBOB

It was just a normal Saturday. Neil and Emma were at the library studying when suddenly, they heard a voice. "Go to the computerrrr..."

They were so bored that they went to the computers. When they go there they heard another voice. "Draw somethingggg..."

Emma decided that she would draw Spongebob from Spongebob Squarepants. She started with his glistening yellow body with his perfect square frame.

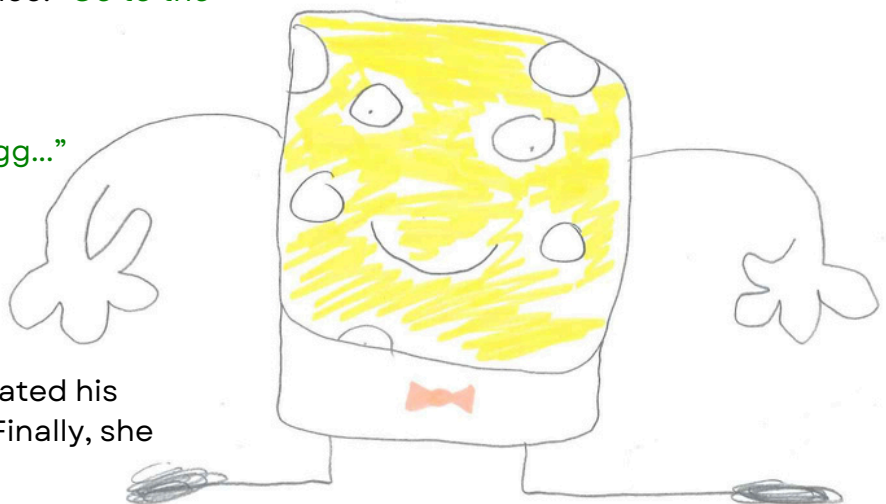

Then she went down and perfectly illustrated his brown pants and blood colored bow tie. Finally, she added his holes and finished his face.

"Hmmm, something is missing." Neil said.

"How about a title!" Emma exclaimed.

And so she wrote "Sponbob" and that is how the creation of Sponbob occurred.

Based on a true story.

MINECRAFTING GARBAGE

BY BELLA

As of writing this, "A Minecraft Movie" teaser trailer just came out a few hours ago-

And it's awful.

Let me name in order of my thoughts and opinions:

There's a blue portal, and then it shows the world of Minecraft. First off, the view of the overworld looks absolutely stunning... but it only goes downhill from here. We see the main cast: a lady I don't know, a boy I don't know, (I'm assuming) the teen from family switch, and Jason Mamoia... wearing a hot pink overcoat. The screen then pans to the derppest pink sheep ever. And then the funniest line is the lady's reaction- "What the h3ll?"

Then it shows piglins flying in the overworld on ghastr hot air balloons. 1, Minecraft Legends had piglins invading the overworld, not Minecraft. 2, Minecraft is supposed to be a game for anyone over 10 y/o, why are the piglins so scary/creepy?

Then- Ugh... Jack Black as Steve. I hate this for many reasons. 1, Jack Black is much older than Steve (and he definitely looks older than him too). Jason Mamoia would've been (and looked) a lot better. And then he says his line in the weirdest, worst way- "My name..... is Steeeeeve"
The animals look so derp, the cast is a bunch of oddballs, and the haters were right.

Also its "A Minecraft Movie" NOT "The Minecraft Movie"
...Sound like a 3rd party name lol.

MARIO ON THE BIG MUSHROOM... I MEAN, SCREEN

BY CARMEN

The Super Mario Bros. Movie

The actor who plays Mario is Chris Pratt. The movie is about how Bowser effects the Mushroom Kingdom and Mario has to save it with Peach and Captain Toad. First they go to DK Kingdom to ask for their army but Mario has to fight Donkey Kong in an arena (spoiler: Mario wins). Then they ride karts to stop Bowser but they get ambushed so Mario loses the army and Peach and Toad go back to tell everyone to evacuate the kingdom. But Bowser comes to marry Peach (very weird), then Bowser threatens to kidnap Toad so she says yes. Then at the wedding they sacrificed their prisoners. I'm done talking about the movie so you got to watch it yourself to see the end.

JOLLY GOOD BOOK

BY BELLA

Daughter Of The Pirate King is a thrilling tale of swordfighting, betrayal, backstabbers, secrets, and potential romance

Alosa was kidnapped by an enemy ship... on purpose! She's trying to get one of the three map pieces to find the island of sirens for her father. She gets held prisoner, and sneaks out every night to look for the piece, but its hard with the attractive first mate Riden trying to know and find her every move.

But things start going sideways when she can't find the map; Where could it be?

I personally love this book for many reasons: The sassy main character, who gives off female Captain Jack Sparrow vibes, the suspense, the action, the pirates with some fantasy elements, and she's half siren! There are more books in the series, and when I read them, I'll definitely review them!
