Let's pop the hood and kick the tires: understanding AI

AI is everywhere.
But what exactly is it?

This session will provide an overview of Generative AI, what it is and what to consider, especially if you're a writer, before using it.

There will be time for questions and answers and lots of opportunities to wrestle with what it means to use apps like ChatGPT and Google's Gemini. The session will be facilitated by Jennifer Borgioli Binis, a freelance editor and fact-checker.
