

It is so good to be back on the road!

Library on Wheels services are still reduced but we are striving to reach the Erie County community in any way possible. Currently, we are running a drop-off/pick-up service to some of our usual facilities to ensure patrons receive materials and don't accrue any late fines in the process. We are also parked at the Explore & More museum every Thursday from 9:30 am - 12 noon with carts out on the sidewalk.

Just as importantly, we will begin publishing a Library on Wheels newsletter a few times a year, giving you the latest in Bookmobile and library news, upcoming Bookmobile schedules, recommendations, and opportunities to engage with the library community. Flip through this issue to learn about what the Bookmobile staff has been up to these last few months and the many resources and services we plan to offer in the future. As you will see, we would love to have the opportunity to showcase your creativity! We plan to include an art and literature submission page to allow our patrons to show their own art, poems, short stories, and more. See our Community Art Show page for details. For patrons who do not want to submit art but would like to contribute to the Bookmobile conversation, there will also be opportunities to contribute book and media recommendations, community spotlights and more!

Thank you for checking out our first issue. Let us know if there is anything you would like to see or participate in. We look forward to seeing you soon!

Special Notice

In upcoming issues, we plan on highlighting different museums and organizations from around Buffalo and Erie County that patrons might be interested in. Do you have a favorite place you like to visit? Let us know and we will be sure to include them in future issues! See contact information on Page 1.

Programs

Crafts from the Past

Are you interested in art from the past? Looking for some projects to do? Every Saturday at noon, our Bookmobile librarian Julia publishes a video talking about a moment from art history. After a brief history lesson, Julia will demonstrate a related craft so you can find inspiration and connections to art history in our present understanding of art. Look for these videos on the library Facebook page or on the Bookmobile webpage. If you are having trouble finding them, call or email us!

Past Bookmobile Events

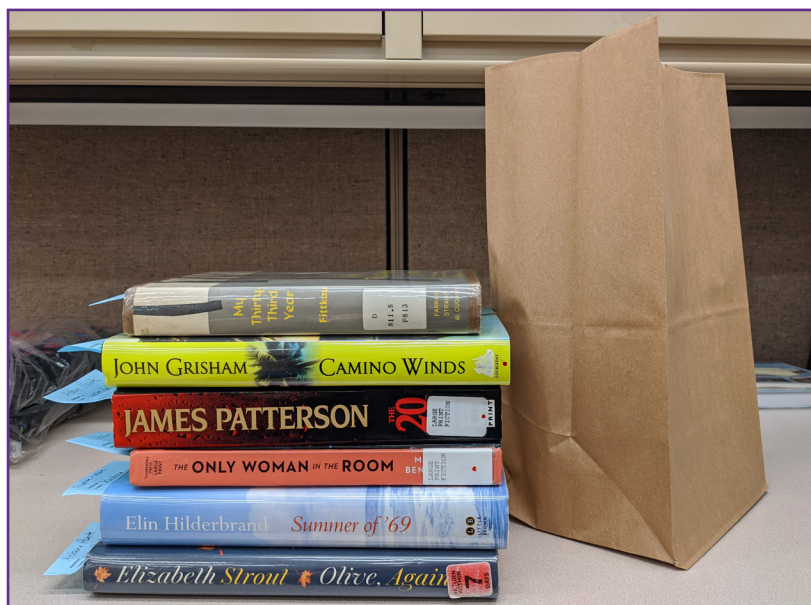

Find a Truck

On June 27, the Bookmobile participated in Explore & More's Find a Truck event. Families followed a scavenger hunt map to locate their favorite trucks and although they couldn't leave their cars, truck drivers were encouraged to wave and honk as they passed by. The Bookmobile was stationed by the Buffalo News building along with the Albright-Knox Art Truck and Peterbilt semi-trucks. We were excited to see hundreds of smiling faces drive by!

Drop-off/Pick-up Services

It's hard to adhere to social distancing on the Bookmobile, but we still want to help our patrons in any way possible. We have been developing a drop-off/pick-up schedule with many of our usual facilities so we can still get our patrons the books and movies they want. Once a month, we have been gathering requests that have been called in or emailed and dropping them off at the facility. We also have been picking up returns so that patrons do not accrue late fees. We are also able to bring other resources as well, such as online articles, coloring pages and more.

Explore & More

Every Thursday from 9:30am - 12 noon, the Bookmobile is parked at the Explore & More Museum by Canalside. We have been rolling our bookcarts out onto the sidewalk and setting up outside so patrons can browse comfortably and safely. We are sure to include a wide range of subjects from new arrivals to children's nonfiction and picture books, adult fiction, and DVDs for the whole week. We plan on being at the museum every Thursday for the rest of the summer, weather permitting, so feel free to stop by and say hi if you are visiting Canalside!

Ready to Fly: How Sylvia Townsend Became the Bookmobile Ballerina
by Alexandria LaFaye and Lea Lyon, illustrated by Jessica Gibson

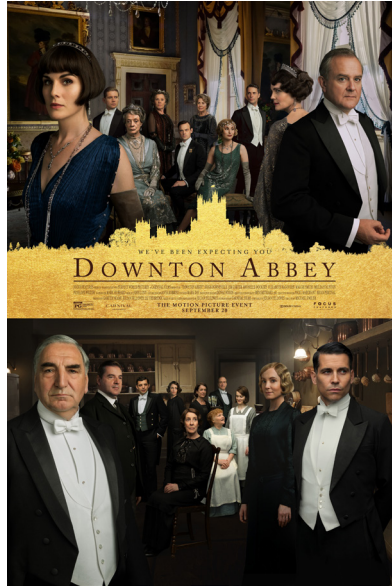

"A book that incorporates dance and bookmobiles? What else could a former dancer/Librarian dream of? It tells the story of Sylvia Townsend, a young African American girl in the 1950s who dreamed of becoming a ballerina like she saw on television. Sylvia asks her Bookmobile librarian for any ballet books, and that was the start of an amazing journey! This biography combines not only dance and Bookmobiles, but tackles segregated 1950s America and the seemingly impossible journey that becomes a reality." - Samantha, Mobile Services and Outreach Manager

Staff Recommendation

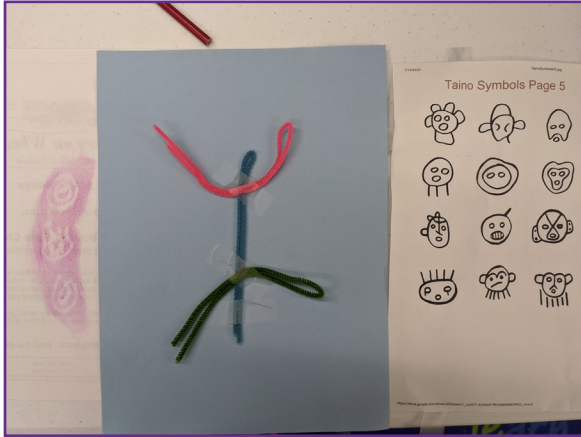

The Invisible Man

"I'm a big fan of movies in general, but the classic Universal movie monsters have a special place in my heart. Some of the remakes have definitely been better than others but this new version of The Invisible Man is fantastic. A remake of the original 1933 film, this movie has updated a lot of themes to fit into our modern world. That means they were able to make the new one as scary as the old one!"

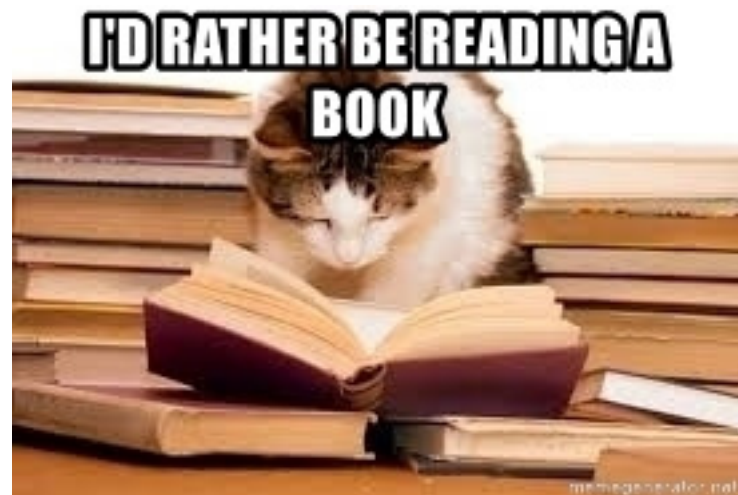

- Julia, Bookmobile librarian

Community Art Show

We would love to show your own original work! Have you been painting or writing in quarantine? Sharpening your photography skills? However you've been expressing yourself creatively, we'd like to see it.
